

Employees Applying for Leave

Types of Leave

Employees can take leave for many reasons, including to go on a holiday, because they are sick or to take care of sick family members.

The type of leave available to you depends on your Employment Status (Permanent or Casual) and your Award/Contract/Agreement.

Some common leave types are:

Annual Leave: paid leave available to Permanent (Full Time/Part Time) employees for personal use, e.g. Holidays, appointments, etc.

Personal/Carer's Leave: also known as sick leave, is paid leave available to Permanent (Full Time/Part Time) employees for when they are sick or to take care of a sick family member. Your employer may ask you to provide a Doctors Certificate.

Leave without Pay: unpaid leave available to both Permanent and Casual employees for personal use; for casual employees who are on holiday or sick and for permanent employees who may not have enough annual leave or sick leave available.

Long Service Leave: paid leave an employee gets after a long period of working for the same employer (e.g. 7 years).

Compassionate & Bereavement Leave: available to all employees when an employee's family member is seriously ill or dies.

Family & Domestic Violence Leave: unpaid leave for all employees covered by an award, to deal with family & domestic violence.

You can find out more about leave via the FairWork website: <https://www.fairwork.gov.au/leave>

Leave vs Roster Unavailability

Depending on your company setup, employees can mark themselves on the roster as unavailable to work from the employee portal. Employees can set unavailability to be a one off, or recurring unavailability. When unavailable it will display in the leave calendar and display as a warning on the roster.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Unavailability is not the same as requesting leave. Your manager will not be notified if you only submit unavailability. This feature should only be used for re-occurring events that prevent you from working particular days/times such as University Studies, Other Jobs, or other Activates. Examples:

"I can't work Tuesday and Thursday 12-5pm because of Tafe."

"I have football training every Thursday night 6-8pm."

If you require specific time off and this time off needs to be approved by your manager, you must submit a leave request.

As an employee, you can set your unavailability by following these steps:

1. Log into the employee portal which will enable you to view the schedule calendar. Clicking on any day in the calendar will display the "Unavailability" dialog

Set Unavailability ✕
